Board of Governors Names Jackson Editor of Paper

The Board of Governors of The New Hampshire at its meeting last Thursday afternoon elected David H. Jackson to be editor-in-chief of the publication for the coming volume year.

Jackson will take office tomorrow and will serve until April 26, 1963, as head of the campus undergraduate newspaper.

A native of West Stewart-town, New Hampshire, Jackson is majoring in psychology in the College of Liberal Arts. He is currently a junior and is 25 years old.

Prior to entering UNH in 1959, Jackson served three years with the United States Army, two of which were served doing classified reporting for the Army Security Agency in Germany.

Lists Views

While at UNH, Jackson has served as president of his housing unit and has acted as Men's Interdormitory Council Treasurer. He has served as a staff writer on The New Hampshire during the past semester.

Jackson, in a report prepared for the Board of Governors, reviewed his conception of the newspaper.

"The New Hampshire, as a student newspaper, should present news and editorial comment pertinent to the University. This news should reflect sound, honest reporting and editing, and should be of value and interest to the readers.

"The editor must maintain leadership and direction for the paper. He should be able to devote the time and effort necessary for the creation and execution of this paper.

"In the past year, The New Hampshire has advanced to a highly esteemed position among both college and state newspapers. I feel that this significant expression of student thinking can be carried on by a conscientious staff which realizes its responsibility to the student body and to the University community.

Raise Standards

"I believe that the present editor, Mr. Taylor, is largely responsible for raising the standards of The New Hampshire to such a level that it is now highly regarded by students, faculty, and administrators as well as various newspaper editors and publishers throughout the state.

"My main objective is to maintain and enhance this reputation by the same kind of accurate, objective news reporting.

"Editorially, I believe that The New Hampshire should not attempt to speak for any group, on or off the campus. Every editorial must be considered the

Progress But No Prexy Yet

Dean Williamson, Chairman of the Selection Committee, told The New Hampshire Monday that the Committee has made "excellent progress" in its search for a new president for the University.

Several "Interested" prospects have been discussed but the "Committee has more to do" before the final selection of the President.

Chairman Williamson expressed hope that the selection would be made in the near future.

There is no fixed date for the next committee meeting and it will be held when Mr. Williamson feels it necessary.

Louis Lyons to Appear At Journalism Confab

University Sponsored Institute Attracts Teachers; Student and Professional Newspaper People

By Steve Taylor

Student newspaper editors, professional newspapermen, and three of America's leading journalism teachers will meet on the UNH campus this weekend for a University sponsored Journalism Institute.

The Institute will begin Saturday noon and continue through Sunday morning, and will feature as keynote speaker Louis M. Lyons, Curator of the Nieman Foundation at Harvard University.

Dr. Lyons is familiar to UNH students as the news analyst for WGBH, Channel 2, and WENH, Channel 11.

Explore Possibilities

Also appearing at the Institute will be Dr. Edmund C.

Arnold, Professor of Journalism at Syracuse University, and Robert Baram, Professor of Journalism at the Boston University School of Public Relations and Journalism.

The Institute is being sponsored by the Board of Trustees of the University as a means of exploring the feasibility of incorporating a course or courses in journalism within the undergraduate curriculum. The Trustees set aside a sum of money for an Institute to be held as a first step in the study.

Last fall a committee was appointed by the President of the University to plan and execute the Institute idea.

Serving on the committee have been Dean of students Robert Keese, Steve Taylor, Editor of The New Hampshire, Dave Batchelder, Associate Editor of The New Hampshire, Thomas Williams, Assistant Professor of English, and John Ballentine, Publisher of the Somersworth Free Press.

Hear Panelists

The committee met from time to time during the year and had responsibility for arranging the details of the conference.

Dr. Lyons will deliver his keynote address at the luncheon opening the Institute on Saturday. Following the luncheon, the Institute will hear Drs. Lyons and Arnold and Prof. Baram speak at a panel discussion beginning at 2 p.m.

Dean of Liberal Arts David Knapp will act as moderator for panel discussion.

At 3:30 p.m. the Institute will hear Dr. Arnold preside over a clinic workshop on newspaper layout and composition. Dr. Arnold is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on graphic arts procedures in the country.

Discuss Careers

Various college papers will be analyzed at the clinic session. Dave Batchelder will act as coordinator for the session.

Following a 6:30 dinner, Prof. Baram will address the Institute on the topic "Education for a Career in Journalism."

A round table discussion on the campus newspaper will wind up activities Saturday evening.

Sunday morning will see various student editors from throughout New England sit on panels discussing several conference summary topics pertaining mainly to the goals, problems, and responsibilities of a campus newspaper.

Editor of all major College newspapers in New England have been invited to attend along with editors of all the state dailies and major weeklies.

The Institute planning committee will submit a report to the Board of Trustees discussing the Institute and the views advanced by the various people participating in the program.

Fire Fighting High School Student

Sparks From Passing Train Sets Fire

The Durham Fire Department was kept busy early this week with two woods fires within a 24 hour period.

A coal from a passing train sparked a blaze that sent the complete department to the dead end of Davis Avenue on Monday afternoon at 2:15.

Tuesday noon Chief Donovan sent one truck in answer to a call from Lee where an area used to discard diseased elms was ablaze. They were soon relieved by the Lee Department.

Winds of up to sixty mph fanned both fires. The Davis blaze was confined within 3 acres and burned for two hours before it was finally out. It came to about three hundred yards of houses; "It came close enough for us," the Chief said.

Children Help

Every piece of equipment was used to fight the blaze including 2300 feet of hose and a couple dozen indian tanks.

Many area children who are out on a week's vacation from school fought the fire with tanks of water and brooms.

These two fires make the second and third that Chief Donovan's men have been called to in the last eight days.

The Boston & Maine has admitted that their train started the blaze and will be billed by the Chief for the expense of fighting it.

Birds And Dixieland For Spring Weekend

A group of rare birds, and a Dixieland band from England will probably highlight Spring weekend, Al Weinstein, Student Union President told The New Hampshire earlier this week.

Plans are well under way to get Chris Barber, Great Britain's number one bandsman and player of traditional jazz to give a Friday evening concert.

Can Do Anything

The Flamingos will play at a dance on Saturday night; "They can do most anything," Weinstein said.

He hopes that the fling will be informal and free with people wearing everything from burmudas to white tux.

Weinstein explained that reaction to the Saturday morning float parade was cool and that he would try to promote a battle of the UNH twist bands to replace it. He felt that the float idea crashed because it would require too much work too close to finals.

Barber and his band are on an exchange program with Louis Armstrong and will play for President Kennedy in June.

Open Hours At UNH

When the Flamingos play Saturday night there will be an open house at the Memorial Union. Students will be able to sit at table cabaret style and refreshments will be served.

Most of the records the Flamingos have played have been slow numbers, but Weinstein assures that they can now "twist or anything."

Abolition Movie
Packs Spaulding

Last Thursday night the Inquirers presented "Operation Abolition" and "Operation Correction".

The film "Operation Abolition" was sponsored by the House Un-American Activities Committee and "Operation Correction" by the American Civil Liberties of Northern California Union.

Fat-jowled Representative Walter, chairman of the committee, gave the opening oration in "Operation Abolition" and said that the film showed how Communist - led and inspired students rioted against the committee's investigation held in San Francisco during the spring of 1960.

Different Narration

Following this was a series of news reel films which depicted the student demonstration.

"Operation Correction" used the same news reel footage but had a different narration. Also the film showed how a grossly distorted effect had been achieved in "Operation Abolition" by splicing together events which had occurred on different days.

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

Girl watchers are honorable men

LESSON 6- Who may watch

Any male is eligible to become a girl watcher. There is no age limit, although most girl watchers are over ten and under one hundred and four. There are no height or weight requirements, although taller men enjoy an obvious advantage at crowded parties. The only strict requirement is one of character. The girl watcher is a man of honor. Since he can't possibly take notes, as the bird watcher does, we must rely on his word. Therefore, when an experienced girl watcher tells you he saw nine beautiful girls while on his way to class, he saw nine beautiful girls. And when he tells you his Pall Mall is the cigarette of the century, believe him. It is.

What's Up

Senate Discusses

Granite, Votes New

Executive Council

At last Monday night's Student Senate meeting Randy Bell officially took over the gavel as president of the Senate for the year 1962-63.

Elected to serve with him were Connie Weatherby, vice-president; Lew Butler, treasurer; Sue Gordon, recording secretary; and Sandy Unterman, corresponding secretary.

Stu Riley, Art Pryor and Penny Poole were elected to the Executive Council.

Last week's motion referring to the Granite was ruled out of order, as it was a special meeting dealing only with the budgets.

The following was moved and passed: "That the Granite be sent to all students who are unable to pick up their year-books prior to June 15, 1962, providing that these students give their name and address to the Granite office during the week of May 21-26."

Bill Graf was appointed chairman of the Orientation Week committee. Other members are Dick Goodnough, Carrie Canepa, Dick Lamontagne, Pam Abbott, Ann Small, Pat Van Den Berge, Sue Ellis, Tom Gray, Dan O'Shaughnessy, Art Pryor, and Doug Ebsteyne.

Senate passed a motion that John Ballentine of Somersworth print this year's Cat's Paw at $2,300, a saving of $200 over last year, with a guaranteed September delivery. Michael Ann Calahan, chairman, said that she hoped this year's Cat's Paw will be more informative.

Eldon Johnson' Scholarship Fund Reaches $4,200 Mark

The scholarship fund established with funds contributed by the students of UNH in 1961 in honor of Eldon L. Johnson, President of the University from 1955-1961 has reached the $4200 mark.

The Senior Key, sponsor of the fund drive, reported that the fund will probably receive contributions from two more student organizations.

Encourage Creativity

These scholarships will be called the "Eldon L. Johnson Scholarships" and will be awarded under the following conditions:

"An unspecified number of scholarships available to students who have through their acts and deeds either before or after entering college exhibited a creativity that is worthy of support and encouragement."

"The intent of the scholarship is to provide funds that will encourage the creative student who otherwise because of financial need might not be able to explore his intents."

Application for these scholarships should be made through the UNH Financial Aids Committee. Recommendations from those who have a knowledge of the Applicants' Qualifications will be required.

A tentative listing of committee members includes Elizabeth Schultz, Pat Parker, Janet Ray, Martha Cain, Betsy Lamphere, and Carolyn Smit.

NOW thru SAT.

SUN. — TUES.

Liquidate Fund

These scholarships are not limited in number; they may or may not be awarded annually and may be re-awarded to a deserving student. The number and amount of these scholarships will be left to the discretion of the Financial Aids Committee.

Both principal and interest may be used for these awards and it is the intent to liquidate the fund over a period of years but prior to 1972. Initial awards will be made in September 1962.

A Senior Key spokesman stressed the "creative" condition of award, since the former President was deeply concerned with this aspect of student intellectual growth.

Money for this fund was furnished by UNH students alone. Individual donations amounted to $2310.00, and the remainder was given by student organizations.

The Editor's Year

This paper is the last issue to be published in Volume 51. Next week a new editor takes over the position we have held for one year. Perhaps it would be interesting, or at least amusing to review some of the events that happened during our term in office.

By far the biggest story to appear in Volume 51 was the resignation of President Eldon Johnson. Dr. Johnson's resignation has had far more impact on the University than we ever thought possible last September.

The vacuum created by his resignation has extended to every department, every student, and every administrator in the University. It is difficult to characterize this vacuum, but one senses it, especially when talking to administrators.

The feeling seems to be that major decisions can best be put off until a new president is found.

It was almost a year ago that the Civil Defense defiance demonstration downtown touched off the loudest controversy between Durham, Concord, and Manchester since the November, 1959, Wyman letter affair.

For four weeks last May, our columns were filled with news and comment on the demonstration. Today, a year later, this episode is still discussed across the campus.

It is brought up everytime the University is discussed across the state. It may be five years before the real impact of this incident upon the University can be evaluated.

A direct result of the defiance demonstration was the hubbub about the new off-campus conduct rule which was finally adopted by the faculty senate in March. This new rule went through months of examination by both students and faculty members. Nobody ever seriously doubted that a new rule would be adopted, but it was heartening to see at least some student interest and concern toward the measure.

Beyond these three big stories there was little news which will be likely to have any lasting impact on the University. There was good news and to us, bad news.

Good news included stories about WMDR's projected expansion, an earnest campaign for the Student Senate presidency, a highly successful Winter Carnival, a sold out Blue and White series, and the revitalization of the campus political groups.

Bad news included the dismal performances of many of UNH's athletic teams, the veto by Gov. Powell of the new physical education plant, the monstrous defeat of UNH's team on the College Bowl, the harassment of the editor of the Granite by the Student Senate, the continuing inaction on the ROTC question, the continued failure of undergraduates to resolve the campus discrimination issue, and the poor taste of students as evidenced at Stunt Night and the so-called literary magazine.

As we leave the editorship, some things are brewing which will be worth watching in the weeks and months ahead. The Whittemore School is beginning to take shape, progress is reported in the quest for a new president and reports indicate some shakeups within the University administration.

"Serving Durham Since 1911"

65 Cents

By Tod Papageorge

Elephant Walk: (Thurs.)

An elephantasy, set in the jungle splendor of Ceylon.

Elizabeth Taylor, the only bit of sugar on an isolated tea plantation, finds herself ignored by husband Peter Finch. After taking a quick pekoe-ver the other available males, Liz free-flows to Dana Andrews, a crum-pet who can't wait to get her into hot water.

However, his proposed solution evaporates when a cholera epidemic and pachydermal stampede destroy the plantation. For Liz, realizing her husband's bitter plight, decides to stick by his side and remain a tea-toteler.

The Mark: (Fri-Sat)

A good film, structured on what is, basically, the case history of a mental illness. Stuart Whitman gives an excellent performance as an alleged child molester, who reclaims himself only through the determined aid of a psychiatrist (Rod Steiger) and a woman (Maria Schell).

The major weakness of this production is that it states and solves its problems with a facility which presents psychiatry as a sort of panacea, a new religion requiring only the modified faith of patience. But this thematic fault is one which never overshadows the consistently fine acting.

Satin Never Sleeps: (Sun-Mon)

Menu: Devil'd Ham and apple pie-ty

Preparation: Take one Catholic mission in southwest China; sprinkle with the sa-tannic acid of bestial communism (Weaver Lee); mix in a chewy Carmelite (William Holden) and rice paddy-cake (France Nuyen); then half-bake in a conversion oven for 125 minutes.

A Cold Wind In August: (Tues-Wednes)

A young man (Scott Marlowe) has an affair with an older woman (Lola Albright) a relationship which develops to a sort of love, but dies in disillusionment. A common enough plot, but one which is handled convincingly, and with an honesty unusual in American films. To be purposely ambiguous, this is a motion picture to see, if only to disagree with.

Too Much Tippling

To The Editor:

On Easter Sunday many families enjoy taking afternoon drives to enjoy the beauty of spring. Since a main highway runs through our campus it is not unlikely that many people drove through Durham this Easter.

But what did they see here? A quiet, picturesque college town? Yes, but besides this, something else that probably made an impression and a decidedly less favorable one.

The Sunday driver would have been jolted by raucous music blaring from Kappa Sigma. There college "men" attired in loud pajamas, and bathrobes and tippling beer cans, lounged on livingroom furniture which had been arranged on the front lawn.

Is this the image of the University we want to display to the rest of the state and to the townspeople of Durham, for that matter? In a state in which the University already receives undue criticism, one would think that students would try to improve the reputation of their school rather than allow "harmless fun" to damage it.

It is about time that students realize that individual actions do reflect upon the University and are, in large part, responsible for the attitude of the state toward the University. If students cannot do anything constructive, the least they can do is to refrain from the immature and irresponsible behavior that was exhibited last Sunday.

Men's Glee Club

By Jurgen Kruger

A long period of silence from the University's choral groups was broken by the Men's Glee Club Concert last week. It turned out to be a very pleasant surprise.

Judging from past experiences with UNH choral concerts (Glee Clubs or Concert Choir) one could only look forward with skepticism to this concert. The Men's Glee Club, however, broke the spell with a performance that was consistently good.

The opening four numbers were quickly disposed of and the more interesting part of the program featured the "Gaudemus Igitur," Triumph Thanksgiving" by Rachmaninoff, the "Crucifixus" from Bach's B Minor Mass, "Emite Spiritum" by Schuetky, and the "Beati Mortui."

A special moment during the concert occurred shortly before the intermission when the Glee Club sang "Loveliest of Trees", a poem by E. A. Houseman set to music by Thomas Desrosiers, a student at the University and a member of the Men's Glee Club. Mr. Zei, the director of the group, announced that this song had been dedicated to the Men's Glee Club.

Four negro spirituals following the intermission continued to uphold the group's excellent diction and expressive dynamics. The program came to a close with selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein Musicals.

Letters to the Editor More MERP Problems

To the Editor

Dear Disgruntled,

In answer to your perspicacious, and very observant letter of last week, we have a few satistics and a few opinions to attempt to enlighten you of the real state of affairs.

Six of us got together to combine our expenses and number of dates for Merp Week. After hours of figuring, we came up with the total of 35 dates amounting to an expense of $130.00. These dates include coffee parties, movies, dinners, and informal get-togethers at various establishments around the area. It seems that your argument is partly refuted already.

We realize that the overburdening expenses of the union (featuring such spectaculars as free record hops and free movies) the Franklin, the Cat, Dunfey's (and extravagant fraternity parties) justify your complaints, however we feel you have ignored unfairly the majority of UNH coeds. We also realize that there is a startling lack of Jackie Kennedy's on campus, but we fail to see too many Paul Newman's, Rock Hudson's or even Elvis Presley's in evidence.

The fact that our dress is open to criticism causes us to reflect a minute on the fashion-conscious world of the UNH male. We didn't know that dungarees were "in" this year, but apparently they are. We also were unaware that the sleeveless sweatshirts had become one of Madison Avenue's latest accessory to a gray-flannel suit. As a side note we're sorry to see that the Gillette company has gone out of business.

So "Disgruntled", all we can say is "Better Luck next year."

The Impoverished Merpers

And Still More

To the Editor

We would like to suggest to the impatient disgruntled that he take off the blinders and look more closely at his campus contemporaries . . . "the lovelies." (In this letter we will try to refrain from sarcasm.)

It is a known fact that there is usually a cause behind an effect. We have not noted of late that sports jackets and ties have had much occasion to frequent the campus. In fact, our male population seems to be equally fond of the words "property of", not to mention the tee shirt that comes in the new spring colors of . . . grungey grey, grimy grey, and grubby grey.

We are not aware that the current steel situation has affected the scarcity of razor blades in Durham especially since their absence has been noted for at least the past four years.

With regard to the MERP

Program, we feel that there is reason to question its necessity. The gross amount spent on "campus lovelies" is negligible if not insignificant. The suggested co-ed wardrobe including six cocktail dresses could easily be the synonym for "dust catchers" on this campus. If the "lovelies" were deprived of campus dates they would doubtless find the beauty of the outside world.

In conclusion, we might add that males enjoy the title of leaders. To adhere to their fantasy, the "lovelies" have followed their fine example . . . as curlers to beards; as sweat-shirts to sweatshirts; and as finance to finance. We would never attempt to shatter the male ego with the word "equality."

May our curlers brush your beards in passing or our soft hair touch your smooth faces; the choice is yours . . . leaders! "Trendists".

Color TV Conflict

To the Editor

On the basis of the following facts we felt justified using student activity money for the purchase of a new color T.V. Set.

1. The following notice was posted at the reception desk in MUB for a period of two weeks, with a suggestion box.

TV FOR THE LOUNGE AREA
Student Union wonders what you think about getting a new TV set for the lounge. The old one, which was given to the MUB about four years ago by the Student Union Organization, was damaged by fire before Christmas. It is felt that due to this and previous high repair costs, it is time to get a new set.

Do you want a color set or black-and-white?

The Memorial Union Building administration does not consider it wise to invest in a color TV set.

On the other hand, some members of the Student Union Board of Governors favor purchasing a color TV Set.

As the situation now stands, if a colored TV set is to be had, Student Union or some organization will have to give it to MUB, which will cover repair costs. Otherwise the MUB administration will probably plan on purchasing a black and white set within its next budget.

We are interested in your opinion. Please indicate if you feel a colored TV set will be worthwhile or if a black-and-white set would be satisfactory. Any other remarks would be appreciated.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Student Union Organization
P.S.—In the suggestion box, please!

Of the 80 suggestions received, 65% were in favor of a color TV.

2. The Student Senate and their joint budget committee both approved the future purchase.

3. Student Union Board of Governors and general membership approved of the color TV set.

We feel we are justified in assuming Student support for the Color TV set. If the New Hampshire editors are not satisfied, we shall be happy to acknowledge their "constructive" criticism.

When an organization feels it has sampled student opinion by hearing from eighty students out of over 3,000, we can do nothing but question its reasoning. — Editors

Only 200 UNH Students Hear Campus Guest

Only an estimated 200 students attended the distinguished lecture last Thursday.

Sir Hugh Taylor, Dean of the Graduate School, Emeritus, of Princeton and President of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, was the lecturer.

Sir Hugh's lecture, "Science and the Life of the Scholar," dealt with the history of scientific education in the universities. The greats of science of the 19th century were usually not connected with universities.

Needs Money

However in this century, scientific breakthroughs came from the universities with in-

WMDR Will Start Operating As Of Next September

WMDR will now definitely be on the air next September. It will operate through closed circuit AM transmitters which will be placed in all dorms, fraternity and sorority houses.

These transmitters will enable any student living in one of these residences to listen to WMDR over any AM radio.

The Mike and Dial station is still continuing its attempts to secure an FM license from the Federal Communications Commission, thus to become WMDR FM.

Many Stumbling Blocks

"There are many stumbling blocks standing in the way of the completion of this project, but we are trying to eliminate them one by one," said Tony Reddington, program Director and Chairman of the FM Research Committee. "First, we must secure the University's permission and obtain the necessary funds for the operation. Then, we still face the task of getting a license from the FCC."

The staff of WMDR has been actively working to overcome these obstacles, and with some apparent success. Committees have been energetically taking surveys and drawing up reports and the station is now able to present a workable plan before Acting President Reed. If Dr. Reed gives his consent, the project will then be reviewed by the Board of Trustees of the University. WMDR needs permission from the Board of Trustees before beginning the engineering survey necessary to secure the FM license.

AM To Continue Operation

The closed circuit AM setup that will blanket the campus next Fall will remain in operation regardless of whether or not the FM license is granted. In the event that WMDR goes on the air as an FM station, the closed circuit system will be used to broadcast rock'n'roll, which will not be programmed on FM.

the first new major division since the several undergraduate colleges were combined into the University in 1923.

The Whittemore School was established in 1960 to strengthen the University's relation to the business and industry of New Hampshire and New England through instruction, research, and service.

It is named for the late Laurence F. Whittemore of Pembroke, one of New England's best known industrialists and civic leaders who served on the UNH Board of Trustees for 16 years, the last five as President.

PHD in Eco.

Dr. Barlow, whose contributions to business and economics education in recent years have won him considerable recognition, has been teaching at Colby for nine years.

He received his undergraduate degree cum laude from Colby in 1950, the Master of Arts degree from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University in 1951, and the Ph.D. in economics from the Fletcher School in 1960. In his graduate work at the Fletcher School he specialized in international trade.

He also has studied at the London School of Economics under a Fulbright award in 1951-52, the Institute of International Law at The Hague, and Harvard University Summer School.

Dr. Barlow has been assistant director economist for the Project on Aging of the Northeast Research Foundation, Inc., and was co-author of "The Aged in the State of Maine", a report prepared for the White House Conference on Aging in 1960.

Studied Tax

He has done considerable research in natural resources. His "Report on the Allagash to the Natural Resources Council of Maine" for the Conservation Foundation of New York, of which he was the co-author last year, has received national attention.

In 1957 Dr. Barlow was a Fellow of the Merrill Center in Economics at Amherst College, and he was a consultant on tax policy to the 1960 pre-legislative conference of the Maine Legislature.

Upgrading School

The importance of business and industry to New Hampshire's economy prompted the UNH. Board in 1960 to create the new school to give more emphasis to the program in economics and business administration.

The 1961 New Hampshire Legislature gave approval to the upgrading of the existing department to a school with independent status. The department was the largest in the College of Liberal Arts, with about 300 major students.

Dr. Barlow is a native of Cambridge, Mass. He attended schools in Waterville, Maine, before enrolling at Colby. He is married and the father of four children.

frequent basic discoveries from industrial laboratories.

Sir Hugh stated that modern scientific research needs great sums of money. While it is relatively easy these days to get financial aid, money is useless without ideas. New ideas are scarce and there is a danger to substitute money for ideas, according to Sir Hugh.

Nuclear Threat

He looked at the world aspect of science next. There are those with the glum view, that man does not have the moral strength to control the scientific monster which he created. The threat of nuclear war is their illustration that man will surely misuse scientific knowledge.

There is another view of science, which holds that a greater and greater understanding of nature will allow man to better understand the magnificence of God's creation. According to Sir Hugh, science can do either. It depends on the moral use man makes of science, for scientific knowledge can be used for good or bad. However, Sir Hugh is optimistic.

Sweetmen Lose to Perry Stars As UNH Skippers MIT and Tufts Frosh Win 2nd Take Second

A triangular meet between the UNH, Tufts, and MIT squads last Saturday ended in a victory for the Jumbos. The scoring was Tufts-63, MIT-52, and New Hampshire - 49.

440 Close
High point man was Tom Smith of Tufts, winning the 100 in 10.3 and the 220 in 23.9, to come up with ten points.

The closest varsity event of the day was the 440, in which MIT's Demetrios came from behind to catch John Morse of UNH at the finish.

New Hampshire took two firsts; Dick Clark won his second 120 hurdling race of the season in 17.1, and Jack Dye won the broad jump with a leap of 21-6. Dye was leading scorer for the Wildcats for the second straight week, as he also placed in the 220 and in the 100.

The UNH Freshman Track team won its second meet of the season in a quadrangular meet with the Tufts, Northeasterns, and MIT Freshman teams last Saturday. New Hampshire led in firsts with 7 and in points with 68½. In second place was Northeastern with 40 followed by MIT with 37½ and Tufts with 19.

Individual scoring honors were shared by Dick Perry of UNH, and Glynn and Cowen of Northeastern.

Perry, Reneau Star

Perry took first in the 440 with a record-tying time of 50.5. He also won the 220 in 23.3. Glynn ran a fine mile 4:29.1, also taking the 880 in 2:00.7. Cowen won the shot put with a 40-9 toss and the discus, throwing 116 feet.

Jeff Reneau turned in a

Last Sunday, the UNH Sailing Club lost first place by 3 1/6 points. The competition was won by Middlebury College with 68 1/6 points to the second place points of UNH, 65. Sailing for UNH were; Tony Gilmore, Joan Danesi, and Anne Lindemann. The Coast Guard Academy generously provided substitute crews for a missing member of the UNH group.

record-breaking time in the two-mile. The old record of 10:16 set by Whit Peart in 1960, was smashed by Reneau with a 10:00.4 time.

Other firsts for The Kittens were turned in by Jack Higgins in the 100, by Herb Shaw in the high-jump, Wally Johnson in the broad jump, and by Jim Nelson in the hammer throw.

Doherty Gets 3; Frosh Lose 5-3 to Preps

Coach Pepper Martin's Surprising frosh lacrosse team lost a 5-3 overtime game to Governor Dummer last Saturday at the prepsters home field.

The inexperienced Kittens tied the game 3-3 with less than two minutes remaining in regulation time.

Doherty Gets Three

Outstanding for the frosh were Brian Poole, Joel Doherty and Bruce Gilbert.

Goalie Poole came up with many excellent saves and made it possible for the Kittens to remain close to the prepsters. Doherty was probably the outstanding player for UNH as he scored all three goals. Gilbert, playing his first game of lacrosse, was outstanding on defense.

The Durham Bull with Pete Randall

Considering that many students were home for the Easter holidays and that three events were going on at the same time, attendance was fairly good at last Saturday's games.

Lacrosse especially drew a good crowd, while track probably drew the least. The baseball game was well attended by nonstudents (ie. many older men).

What will happen this Saturday, when there is no lacrosse game? Will the students support the other spring teams?

This weekend there are no holidays, and no contact sports. Probably The Cat will be crowded.

University of Maine tennis coach Si Dunklee called upon poetry (of all things) to inspire his players in their match Saturday with the University of New Hampshire.

Burdened with a 19-match losing streak, dating back three years, the new UM coach became quite academic in his pre-match preparations.

Prior to the match, squad members read the following which was posted on the tennis court bulletin board:

"We have two ends
with a common link;
with one we sit
with one we think.
"Success depends on which we use.
Heads we win—
Tails we lose!"

The words apparently had the desired effect. Maine won, 7-2, over the defending Yankee Conference Champions.

One of UNH's best all-time track men was Boo Morcom.

In 1943, he entered the IC4A meet in New York and became the only man ever to win three events. Morcom won the pole vault, the broad jump and the high jump.

One of the most productive UNH batting averages compiled in recent years was made by Horace Verry in the 1956 season. That was the year the UNH went to the national championships in Omaha.

Verry had 12 at bats, 7 hits, 1 walk and 8 RBI's for a .636 average.

Those who saw the track meet last Saturday noticed a new judging stand on display. The old stand had fallen into such bad repair that Director of Athletics Carl Lundholm decided a new one was needed.

He designed one and the maintenance men built it. Besides being a judging stand, the new contraption will also be used for the band director in the Fall and for other inside Fieldhouse activities.

When UNH went to the national championships in 1956, they were traveling in some pretty fast company.

Minnesota's two stars were former Olympic goalie Jack McCartan and present Cleveland second baseman Gerry Kindall. Former Washington Redskin quarterback Eagle Day played for Mississippi and present major leaguer Don Lee was a star for Arizona.

Lacrossemen Dump MIT 7-2 Poor Hitting Big Problem As 'Cat Tennis Team Drops Match 7-2

Bowdoin Game Snowed Out UNH Nine Drops First Two

UNH's fired up lacrosse team rolled to a hard fought 7-2 victory over MIT last Saturday on Memorial Field.

Outstanding for UNH were attackman Jim West and goalie Ed Facey.

West continued his sparkling play of the spring trip by scoring two fowls and assisting on two others.

West, Edgerly Get Two Each Facey, playing his first game of the season in the goal, made many excellent saves. It looks as though Coach Snively's goal problem has been solved.

UNH had a 3-0 lead at the half on goals by Bo' Dickson, Dunc Ogg, and Al Klopfer. In the second half, Fest and Jim Edgerly each got two goals to preserve the victory.

UNH dominated the play throughout the game. The Techmen were frequently in trouble due to penalties and the Wildcats usually had a man advantage on the field.

The defencemen trio of Marty Glennon, Bob Weeks and Paul D'Allesondro aided Fancy greatly by keeping the pressure on the MIT attackmen.

Five Get Assists

The Techmen rarely got more than one shot at Fancy as the ball was quickly cleared to the UNH midfielders and on to the attackmen.

In addition to West, Dickson, Klopfer, Paul Morro and Bob Weeks had assists.

The next home game will be on May 2 against Middlebury.

UNH's scheduled game with Bowdoin College yesterday was cancelled due to a 4 inch snow storm. The game was played this afternoon in Brunswick.

The UNH varsity baseball team dropped its first two games of the season this week to Rhode Island and Dartmouth.

On Tuesday, the Big Green drubbed the Wildcats 15-1 in Hanover.

Dartmouth, who out hit the 'Cats 12-5, was led by Bill Jaeger who had a home run and two singles in five trips. He also knocked in three runs and scored three.

UNH's only run came when Larry Lonzak walked and was forced at second by Bill Flint. Dan Serieka singled with Flint moving to second. Misiaszcek then forced Serieka at second with Flint moving to third.

Nick Ide pinch hit for Morse and singled in Flint.

Other UNH hits were made by Pete Merrill and Ken Wade and Flint.

Saturday's opening day game saw UNH drop a 5-0 decision to the Rams of Rhode Island.

The Rams scored four in the second and one in the third to get their first win of the year. Leading hitters for the RI were Joe Vallane, who had three hits in four tries and scored one run, and Vic Scarpella who was two for three and two runs batted in.

UNH again had only five hits. Flint had two hits and Tom Gramitakas, Lonzak and Coach Bill Olson's tennismen took a 7-2 licking at the hands of UMaine last Saturday in Orono.

Sixth man Wayne Waddington picked up the only singles victory in straight sets of 6-4 and 8-6.

The second doubles team of Davy Joslin and Pete Thompson also won in straight sets of 6-3 and 7-5.

The rest of the matches were also won in straight sets as the Black Bears won their first match in three years. Earlier this season Maine lost 9-0 to Mass. and UConn.

Nowak each had one.

Carl LaDuc relieved Nordlinger in the second and pitched well the rest of the game.

CRAM COURSE NO. 4: BATHYMETRY

Continuing our series of pre-final exam cram courses, today we take up bathymetry—the study of ocean depths.

Admittedly, this is not a terribly popular course on most campuses. And small wonder. In the whole world there is only one bathyscape, and only two people can get into it.

Nevertheless, the study of ocean depths is of great importance. Why, do you realize that the ocean is by far the world's largest biological environment? The ocean has more than three hundred times as much living room as all the continents and islands combined! Unfortunately, only fishes live in it.

And small wonder. Who'd want to live some place where he couldn't smoke? Surely not I! I wouldn't give up my good Marlboro Cigarettes for the Atlantic and the Pacific put together. Nothing could induce me to forego Marlboro's fine mellow flavor, Marlboro's clean white filter, Marlboro's flip-top box that really flips, Marlboro's soft pack that's really soft. Let others repair to the spacious deeps. Me, I will stick with my Marlboros and the tiny garret I share with a tympanist.

But I digress. Back to the oceans. The largest, as we know, is the Pacific, which was discovered by Balboa, a Spaniard of great vision. To give you an idea of Balboa's vision, he first saw the Pacific while standing on a peak in Darien, which is in Connecticut.

Even more astounding, when Balboa reached San Francisco, he clearly saw the Hawaiian Islands! Being, as we know, a friendly cuss, Balboa waved merrily to the Hawaiians and shouted, "Great little ocean you got here, kids!" The Hawaiians, also, as we know, friendly cusses, waved back, declared a half holiday, organized a luau, built a cheery fire over which they prepared several gallons of poi, a suckling pig, and Captain Cook. This, of course, was the origin of Cooking.

Who'd want to live there?

But I digress. The Pacific, I say, is the largest ocean and also the deepest. The Mindanao Trench, off the Philippines, measures more than 5,000 fathoms in depth. (It should be pointed out here that ocean depths are measured in fathoms—lengths of six feet—after Sir Walter Fathom, a noted British sea measurer of the seventeenth century who, upon his twenty-first birthday, was given a string six feet long with which he used to go scampering all over England measuring sea water until he was arrested for loitering. A passion for measuring seems to have run in the family; Fathom's cousin, Sir Sol Furlong, spent all his waking hours measuring race tracks until Charles II had him beheaded in honor of the opening of the London School of Economics.)

But I digress. Let us, as the poet Masfield said, go down to the seas again. (The seas, incidentally, have ever been a favorite subject for poets and composers.) Who does not remember Tennyson's "Break, break, break"? Or Byron's "Roll on, thou dark and deep blue ocean, roll"? Or the many hearty sea chanties that have enriched our folk music—songs like "Sailing Through Kansas" and "I'll Swab Your Deck If You'll Swab Mine" and "The Artificial Respiration Polka." My own favorite sea chanty goes like this:

*A girl loved a sailor and he did jilt her,
And she did weep and roar-ho!
Until she found a perfect filter,
And a perfect smoke—Marlboro!
Sing hey, sing ho, sing ring-a-ding-ding,
Sing tars and spars and patches,
Sing pack and box and lots to like,
And don't forget the matches!*

The landlocked makers of Marlboro wish you smooth sailing through your final exams and smooth smoking—with Marlboro, of course. Have YOU settled back with a Marlboro lately?

UNH Golfers Beat UMass, Lowell Tech, Splaine Medalist With 76

By Spencer Michlin

The UNH golf team swept a triangular meet with UMass, and Lowell Tech last Tuesday. Snagging top honors for the Wildcats were John Splaine, Chuck Werner and Don Mativer each of whom won both matches. Splaine was also medalist for the day with a 76.

Sophs Impress

In addition to Mativer, two other Sophomores made excellent showings in their first collegiate matches. They are Al

Kidder, who defeated UMass while losing to his Lowell Tech opponent, and Bob Kanerva, who defeated Lowell Tech and halved with UMass.

Senior Jim Winn lost to UMass, but defeated Lowell Tech on the 20th hole, while Davey Stewart defeated Lowell Tech one up and lost to UMass one down.

The UNH golfers have a tough match coming up next Saturday as they meet Yankee Conference rivals Rhode Island.

A high wind, heavy bats and weak pitching told the tale as the UNH kitten nine squeaked out a 15-14 win over the Northeastern freshmen on Tuesday.

The high wind perhaps was the whole story as strong gusts blew easy outs into doubles and triples and raised havoc with pitchers' control.

Batting star for UNH was Paul Larkin who had five hits in five at bats and scored two runs. In addition Larkin knocked in Jenks, who singled to lead off the ninth, with the winning run.

Fabiano Leads Huskies

Also hitting well for UNH was Cliff Chadwick, who was three for five and three runs scored and Al Neri who was three for six.

Mario Fabiano led the Huskies with three hits in four at bats and four runs scored.

Mercury Film Aired Monday

The how and why of Project Mercury—the United States' first attempt to put a man in orbit—will be seen in a special-hour filmed documentary next Monday evening from 7-8 p.m. over the combined facilities of the Eastern Educational Network (Channel 11( Durham; Channel 10, Lewiston, Maine; and Channel 2, Boston.)

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has prepared the documentary, titled "Mastery of Space." It will include films of the actual launching and astronaut John Glenn's reaction during the historic orbital flight. These films are to be added to the coverage of the astronaut's training and the evolution of the Mercury space craft.

The program contains interviews with two astronauts, John Glenn and Walter Schirra. Glenn is interviewed immediately after being subject to a test of his resistance to centrifugal force. Schirra gives his reactions following a simulated space flight of seven and one-half hours.
